

SIKORSKA NOTARY LIMITED

DATA PROTECTION PRIVACY NOTICE

1. The business of Sikorska Notary Limited of 119 Pen Park Road, Bristol, BS10 6BS trading as Sikorska Notary ("Business", "we", "us", "our"). The Business is registered with the Information Commissioner's Office ("ICO") under number ZB396198.
2. If you have any questions about this privacy notice ("Notice"), please contact us by email.
3. The Business will process your and third parties' personal data, as further explained below, in the course of providing you with notarial and associated services [including access to our website and online features] ("Services").
4. We will let you know, by posting on our website or otherwise, if we make any changes to this Notice from time to time. Your continued use of the Services after notifying such changes will amount to your acknowledgement of the amended Notice.
5. PLEASE NOTE: You shall and you hereby agree to indemnify the Business and its affiliates and their officers, employees, agents and subcontractors (each an "Indemnified Party") from and against any claims, losses, demands, actions, liabilities, fines, penalties, reasonable expenses, damages and settlement amounts (including reasonable legal fees and costs) incurred by any Indemnified Party arising out of or in connection with any breach by you of the warranties included in paragraphs 8 & 8.

What is Personal Data?

6. "Personal data" means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person, known as 'data subject', who can be identified directly or indirectly; it may include name, address, email address, phone number, IP address, location data, cookies and similar information. It may also include "special categories of personal data" such as racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership, and the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a data subject, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation.
7. The Business may process personal data and special categories of personal data which you provide in connection with the Services about yourself and other data subjects, e.g. individuals whose details are included in any materials provided by you to the Business. The Business may obtain information about you and other data subjects from third party service providers, such as due diligence platforms. If you use our online Services, the Business may collect information about your devices including clickstream data.
8. The provision of certain personal data is mandatory in order for the Business to comply with mandatory client due diligence requirements and consequently to provide the Services. You warrant on a continuous basis that such personal data is accurate, complete and up to date. Failure to comply may result in documents being rejected by the relevant certification authorities, held invalid in the destination country or other difficulty to successfully completing the Services.
9. In relation to personal data of data subjects you warrant to the Business on a continuous basis that:
 - (a) where applicable, you are authorised to share such personal data with the Business in connection with the Services and that wherever another data subject is referred to, you have obtained the explicit and demonstrable consent from all relevant data subjects to the inclusion and use of any personal data concerning them;
 - (b) to the extent this is required in connection with the Services, such personal data is accurate, complete and up to date; and
 - (c) either you provide your explicit consent and warrant that each data subject has provided explicit consent for the transfer of personal data to foreign organisations in connection with the Services as set out at paragraph 18, or that an alternative legal gateway for such transfer (such as transfer necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract concluded in the interest of the data subject) has been satisfied.

How do we use your personal data?

10. The Business will only process personal data, in accordance with applicable law, for the following purposes:
- (a) responding to your queries, requests and other communications;
 - (b) providing the Services, including, where applicable, procuring acts from foreign organisations;
 - (c) enabling suppliers and service providers to carry out certain functions on behalf of the Business in order to provide the Services, including webhosting, data storage, identity verification, technical, logistical, courier or other functions, as applicable;
 - (d) allowing you to use features on our website, when you choose to do so;
 - (e) sending you personalised marketing communications requested by you, as well as serving personalised advertising to your devices, based on your interests in accordance with our Cookie Statement below. You have the right to disable cookies as set out above or to unsubscribe by clicking here;
 - (f) ensuring the security of the Business and preventing or detecting fraud;
 - (g) administering our Business, including complaints resolution, troubleshooting of our website, data analysis, testing of new features, research, statistical and survey purposes;
 - (h) developing and improving our Services;
 - (i) using secure technology and artificial intelligence-assisted tools to support the provision of our Services, including document management, drafting assistance, transcription, translation support, legal and regulatory research support, fraud prevention, compliance monitoring, identity verification support and practice administration;
 - (j) complying with applicable law, including Notaries Practice Rules, anti-money laundering legislation, sanctions legislation, Companies House requirements, Faculty Office guidance, guidelines and regulations, or in response to a lawful request from a court, law enforcement body or regulatory authority. This may include processing personal data for anti-money laundering, counter-terrorist financing, sanctions compliance and proliferation-financing risk assessments.

The legal basis for our processing of personal data for the purposes described above will typically include:

- processing necessary to fulfil a contract that we have in place with you or other data subjects, such as processing for the purposes set out in paragraphs (a), (b), (b) and (d);
- your consent, such as processing for the purposes set out in paragraph (e);
- processing necessary for our or a third party's legitimate interests, such as processing for the purposes set out in paragraphs (a), (b), (b), (f), (g) and (h), which is carried out on the basis of the legitimate interests of the Business to ensure that Services are properly provided, the security of the Business and its clients and the proper administration of the Business; and
- processing necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which we are subject, such as processing for the purposes set out in paragraph (i).and
- any other applicable legal grounds for processing from time to time.

Use of Artificial Intelligence

We may use secure artificial intelligence ("AI") assisted technologies to support administrative, compliance and operational functions within our practice.

Such technologies may be used for document management, drafting support, research assistance, transcription, translation support, fraud prevention, identity verification support, compliance monitoring and business administration.

We do not use AI systems to make decisions that have legal or similarly significant effects on clients without meaningful human review.

Any notarial decision, certification, identity verification decision, anti-money laundering assessment, sanctions assessment, proliferation-financing assessment or regulatory decision remains subject to review and approval by the Notary.

We take reasonable steps to ensure that AI-assisted processing is carried out in a lawful, fair, transparent and secure manner consistent with our professional obligations, confidentiality duties and applicable data-protection legislation.

Cookie statement

What exactly are cookies?

11. In order to collect the information including personal data as described in this Notice, we may use cookies and similar technology on our website. A cookie is a small piece of information which is sent to your browser and stored on your computer's hard drive, mobile phone or other device. You can set your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie. This enables you to decide if you want to accept it or not. However, some of the Services offered through our website may not function properly if your cookies are disabled.
12. Cookies can be first party or third party cookies.
 - First party cookies – cookies that the website you are visiting places on your device.
 - Third party cookies – cookies placed on your device through the website but by third parties, such as, Google.

The cookies placed on our website

13. Categories of Cookies Used on Our Website.

Subject to your consent where required by law, we may use the following categories of cookies and similar technologies on our website:

- Strictly necessary cookies. These cookies are essential in order to enable you to move around our website and use its features. Without these cookies, Services you have asked for cannot be provided. They are deleted when you close the browser. These are first party cookies.
- Performance cookies. These cookies collect information in an anonymous form about how visitors use our website. They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around the website when they are using it and the approximate regions that they are visiting from. These are first party cookies.
- Functionality cookies. These cookies allow our website to remember choices you make (such as your user name, language or the region you are in, if applicable) and provide enhanced, more personal features. These cookies can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts and other parts of web pages that you can customise. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites. These are first party cookies.
- Targeting or advertising cookies. These cookies allow us and our advertisers to deliver information more relevant to you and your interests. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement as well as to help measure the effectiveness of advertising campaigns. They remember that you have visited our website and may help us in compiling your profile. These are persistent cookies which will be kept on your device until their expiration or earlier manual deletion.
- Social Media cookies. These cookies allow you to connect with social media networks such as LinkedIn and twitter. These are persistent cookies which will be kept on your device until their expiration or earlier manual deletion.

14. We may combine information from these types of cookies and technologies with information about you from other sources.

Cookie consent and opting out

15. Consent to Cookies

Strictly necessary cookies do not require consent and may be placed on your device where they are essential for the operation, security and functionality of our website.

Performance, analytics, functionality, advertising, targeting, social media and other non-essential cookies will only be placed on your device where you have provided your consent through our cookie consent mechanism.

You may choose whether to accept or reject non-essential cookies. Refusing certain cookies may affect the functionality or performance of some parts of our website but will not prevent access to the website generally.

You may also control cookies through your browser settings. However, disabling strictly necessary cookies may affect the operation of the website.

16. Managing Cookie Preferences

When you first visit our website, you will be presented with a cookie consent banner which allows you to accept, reject or customise your preferences for non-essential cookies.

Your cookie preferences may be changed or withdrawn at any time by using the cookie settings tool available on our website.

Withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before consent was withdrawn.

For further information about cookies and how to manage them, please visit the Information Commissioner's Office website or www.allaboutcookies.org.

Disclosure of personal data

17. There are circumstances where the Business may wish to disclose or is compelled to disclose your personal data to third parties. These scenarios include disclosure to:

- our subsidiaries or associated offices;
- our suppliers and service providers to facilitate the provision of the Services, including couriers, translators, IT consultants and legalisation and other handling agents, webhosting providers, identity verification partners, sanctions screening providers, anti-money laundering and compliance service providers, Companies House and Companies House identity-verification service providers where we provide ACSP services (in order to verify your identity against public databases), consultants, for example, in order to protect the security or integrity of our business, including our databases and systems and for business continuity reasons;
- public authorities to carry out acts which are necessary in connection with the Services, such as the Foreign Office;
- foreign organisations to carry out acts which are necessary in connection with the Services, such as Embassies, Consulates and High Commissions;
- professional organisations exercising certain public, governance and archiving functions in relation to the notaries profession, such as Chambers of Commerce, The Notaries Society and the Faculty Office;
- subject to your consent, our advertising and marketing partners who enable us, for example, to deliver personalised ads to your devices or who may contact you by post, email, telephone, SMS or by other means;

- successor or partner legal entities, on a temporary or permanent basis, for the purposes of a joint venture, collaboration, financing, sale, merger, reorganisation, change of legal form, dissolution or similar event relating to a Business. In the case of a merger or sale, your personal data will be permanently transferred to a successor company;
- public authorities where we are required by law to do so; and
- any other third party where you have provided your consent.

18. Companies House Identity Verification Services (ACSP)

Where we provide services as an Authorised Corporate Service Provider ("ACSP"), we may collect and process personal data for the purposes of identity verification, fraud prevention, compliance with Companies House requirements, maintenance of statutory records and the submission of information to Companies House.

This may include names, former names, dates of birth, residential addresses, email addresses, identity documents, evidence of address, verification results and records of successful or unsuccessful identity verification checks.

We process this information in order to comply with legal obligations, prevent fraud and economic crime, and fulfil our responsibilities as an Authorised Corporate Service Provider.

We may share relevant information with Companies House, identity verification providers, fraud prevention providers, regulators, law enforcement agencies and other authorities where required or permitted by law.

Records relating to Companies House identity verification may be retained for seven years from the date of completion of the verification process or attempted verification, in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements

19. Companies House Identity Verification

Where we provide identity-verification services as an Authorised Corporate Service Provider ("ACSP"), we may collect and process identity documents, biometric or photographic information, address information, verification results, fraud-prevention information and records of completed or unsuccessful verification attempts.

Such processing is undertaken for compliance with Companies House requirements, fraud prevention, legal obligations and the exercise of official authority conferred by applicable legislation.

International transfer of your personal data

20. We may transfer your personal data to a third party in countries outside the country in which it was originally collected for further processing in accordance with the purposes set out above. In particular, your personal data may be transferred to foreign organisations such as foreign Embassies located in the UK or abroad. Such organisations will process personal data in accordance with the laws to which they are subject and international treaties over which the Business has no control.

21. If the Business transfers personal data to private organisations abroad, such as subcontractors, it will, as required by applicable law, ensure that your privacy rights are adequately protected by appropriate technical, organisation, contractual or other lawful means. You may contact us for a copy of such safeguards in these circumstances.

Retention of personal data

22. Your personal data will be retained for as long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes listed above or as required by the law. For example, the Notaries Practice Rules require that that notarial acts in the public form shall be preserved permanently. Records of acts not in public form shall be preserved for a minimum period of 12 years. Please contact us for further details of applicable retention periods. Personal data may for reasons of security and convenience be stored on remote data facilities but in an encrypted form.

Where we provide Companies House identity-verification services as an Authorised Corporate Service Provider, records of completed and unsuccessful identity-verification checks may be retained for seven years from the date of the identity verification or attempted verification in accordance with Companies House requirements.

23. We may keep an anonymized form of your personal data, which will no longer refer to you, for statistical purposes without time limits, to the extent that we have a legitimate and lawful interest in doing so.

Security of personal data

24. The Business will implement technical and organisational security measures in order to prevent unauthorised access to your personal data.
25. However, please be aware that the transmission of information via the internet is never completely secure. Whilst we can do our best to keep our own systems secure, we do not have full control over all processes involved in, for example, your use of our website or sending confidential materials to us via email, and we cannot therefore guarantee the security of your information transmitted to us on the web.

Data subject rights

26. Data subjects have numerous rights in relation to their personal data. For further information about your data protection rights please visit the ICO website.
 - Right to make a subject access request (SAR). Data subjects may request in writing copies of their personal data. However, compliance with such requests is subject to certain limitations and exemptions and the rights of other data subjects. Each request should make clear that a SAR is being made. You may also be required to submit a proof of your identity and payment, where applicable.
 - Right to rectification. Data subjects may request that we rectify any inaccurate or incomplete personal data.
 - Right to withdraw consent. Data subjects may at any time withdraw their consent to the processing of their personal data carried out by the Business on the basis of previous consent. Such withdrawal will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on previous consent.
 - Right to object to processing, including automated processing and profiling. The Business does not make decisions producing legal or similarly significant effects on individuals solely by automated means. Certain technology providers used by the Business may employ automated processing, scoring or risk indicators to assist with identity verification, fraud prevention, sanctions screening, anti-money laundering compliance and business administration. Any such output is reviewed by an appropriately authorised person before a decision affecting a client is made. Profiling may be carried out for Business administration purposes, such as monitoring trends in user visits of our website, and in order to deliver targeted ads. The Business may use third party due diligence platforms which provide recommendations about data subjects by automated means. We will comply with any data subject's objection to processing unless we have a compelling overriding legitimate ground for the processing, the processing is for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or we have another lawful reason to refuse such request. We will comply with each valid opt-out request in relation to marketing communications.
 - Right to erasure. Data subjects may request that we erase their personal data. We will comply, unless there is a lawful reason for not doing so. For example, there may be an overriding legitimate ground for keeping the personal data, such as, our archiving obligations that we have to comply with.

- Restriction. Data subjects may request that we restrict our processing of their personal data in various circumstances. We will comply, unless there is a lawful reason for not doing so, such as, a legal obligation to continue processing your personal data in a certain way.
- Right to data portability. In certain circumstances, data subjects may request the controller to provide a copy of their personal data in a structured, commonly used and machine readable format and have it transferred to another provider of the same or similar services. To the extent such right applies to the Services, we will comply with such transfer request. Please note that a transfer to another provider does not imply erasure of the data subject's personal data which may still be required for legitimate and lawful purposes.
- Right to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority. We suggest that data subjects contact us about any questions or complaints in relation to how we process personal data. However, each data subject has the right to contact the relevant supervisory authority directly.
